Bert Reigns As "Campus King"

In a surprise move late last week, Ron LeRoy resigned as rally commissioner for the Associated Students. LeRoy's resignation came in a letter to president Cec Riley.

LeRoy was appointed to his position in June of this year and, although not enrolled as a student during the summer, he has been a key figure in campus activities since his appointment. Under his direction, card stunts have been introduced to the football rooting section.

In submitting his resignation LeRoy stressed the pressure of academic demands, stating he found it increasingly difficult to maintain a desired standard in his studies and at the same time do justice to his student body post. LeRoy emphasized he was submitting his resignation "with regret."

According to Riley, no successor for LeRoy's job has been chosen. Riley commented "Under the set-up at State, the rally commissioner occupies a very important position in the execution of student activities. It will be difficult to replace LeRoy, particularly at the height of the football season." Riley voiced the hope that the name of the new rally commissioner could be announced on the effective date of LeRoy's resignation, October 10.

Players' Lockers Rifled During Whittier Game

Nine football lockers were neatly chiseled open and approximately $70 disappeared from players' wallets last Friday night during the State-Whittier game, Jack Healy announced yeserday.

Nothing was taken but cash in what police described as a "very neat job."

The luckless gridders will receive no compensation from the Associated Students, which covers them for athletic injuries. "Our insurance doesn't cover personal property," Healy said.

Jack McBride, a tackle in State's 38-26 winning effort, lost $19. Dick Kelley, reserve halfback, lost a $50 check, but was able to stop payment on it. Amounts totaling $50 in cash were taken from other players' wallets.

"The locker rooms are always locked during the games, so the thief must have hidden in one of the toilets or broken through a back door," Healy said.

"From now on a man will be stationed in the locker room so it won't happen again," Healy added.

In addition to the robbery reported in the locker rooms, Don Johnson, last year's student body president, reported the theft of his overcoat while he helped in the press box.

Stunt Card Petitions

Petitions to retain the stunt card display for future football games will be circulated this week for signatures, according to Sid Hollister, a member of the rally committee. A goal of 1000 signatures has been set.

Decrease In Football Gate Receipts Last Week

Because of the cold and wet weather last Friday night the total football gate receipts were only $260.00. This is $400 less than last week's receipts.

Jack Healy, Administrator of Student Affairs, would like to remind the student body that this week's game with Occidental will be played at 2:30 p.m. in Cox Stadium on Saturday. Admission is free with student body cards.

Life Memberships Awarded To Four

Four lifetime memberships were granted at the September 23 meeting of the Board of Directors.

Receiving the memberships were: Mr. Tom O'Connor, a former student and faculty member of San Francisco State College; Mr. Adrien Falk, president of the S and W Fine Foods, Incorporated; Mr. G. Stewart Brown, manager of the Public Relations Department of the Standard Oil Company; and the honorable Raymond J. Arata a San Francisco Municipal Court judge.

Sarongs Motif For 'Shipwreck Shag'; Hula Dancers And Leis On Program

Hula dancers, sarongs and Hawaiian sport shirts will set the theme for the annual "Shipwreck Shag" dance Saturday evening at the new campus gym.

Phi Lambda Chi, sponsors of the dance, said that costumes are not required, but the "shipwreck" style of dress will "be the thing."

A seven-piece combo of State students will provide the music for dancing, while entertainment will be provided by a hula dancer.

Following the theme of the dance, leis will be given as tallies.

The hours are set at 9 p.m. to 12 midnight. Tickets are on sale for 75 cents per person or $1.25 per couple from any member of the sorority, or in the basement of College Hall.

Tickets may also be obtained Saturday night at the dance.

Committee members for the dance are Jane Dietzler, president, Delores Derby, dance chairman, Rachael Durant, Joan Anderson, Pat Gale, Pat Augestiny, Jackie DeVita and Winnie Schmale, decorations committee; Bev Speacht, Marylin Singiser, Lorraine Riviello, Carol Levy, and Pat Baat, publicity committee; Lupe Labela, tickets, Jackie Quinn Ripa, orchestra, Elaine Damele, refreshments, and Helen Zieman, checkroom.

REC CENTER RALLY TOMORROW AT 1 P.M.

A "top notch" rally is scheduled for tomorrow at 1:00 to supplement for the one cancelled last Thursday, according to Bert Phillips, Activities Commissioner. The rally, for the game with Occidental, will be held in the Rec Center.

Last Thursday's rally abrogated because of the committee's failure to notify Ron LeRoy in sufficient time for planning.

OPEN LETTER

Dear Students:

This is to inform you that there will be no more stunt cards used at half-time during the games for the remainder of the season, unless you show a desire to retain them. The reason for this is simply that there is no cooperation from the students in the stands.

First, we have to beg the students to move into the center of the stands, then beg them to pick up the cards and use them. After the game, putting them away, we found that a large number of cards had not been used at all. It took 15 minutes to get the students in the proper frame of mind to use the cards, then the stunts were a complete failure.

There are a few students who work every week until about midnight getting the instruction sheets ready for the games. On Friday afternoon the same few students, the majority of them freshmen, plus a few others, number the seats, permanent numbers cannot be painted on the seats, sort 2200 stunt cards, carry them from the field house to the top of the bleachers, put instruction sheets on the groups of cards, and then they are met with the response such as we had last week.

These same students spend at least eight hours per week working on the stunt cards. We only ask the general student body to spend 10 or 12 minutes on these cards and they do not respond.

Maybe we were wrong in paying $260 for these cards. If so, we will sell them, and any loss to the Associated Students will be made up.

On the other hand, if students really want to use the stunt cards, I would like to see a petition signed by one thousand students, saying that they are in favor of the stunt cards and that they will actively participate in the use of them.

We have planned many such activities for States students, this semester, and if this is the reaction of the students to something new and different, then all such plans will be dropped!

I am extremely sorry that such a letter has to be written, and am open to all suggestions.

Hoping that you will receive this letter in the spirit in which it is written (for the betterment of STATE) I remain your Commissioner of Activities.

BERT PHILLIPS

GUEST COLUMN

Your Student Government

By Cec Riley

"Getting to Know You" is the title of a currently popular song from the successful Broadway production, "Wish You Were Here." The title of that little ballad seems an appropriae theme for this, the first of several columns which will appear here during the course of the semester. Not only are we getting to know you, but you are getting to know us, and most important, we are getting to know one another.

Through this column I hope to acquaint you, the members of the Associated Students, with what is going on. Perhaps I should say that I will attempt to bring you a report of what goes on behind the scenes, of who the people are that are devoting valuable time and energy to give you, the stockholders in our corporation, a full program of activities.

The functioning of student government, of the various boards, councils and committees will be explained to you. At times I may have to report on malfunctions of the Associated Students, but I hope this won't happen often.

Also, through this column, as your president, I will report to you, the citizens of the college community, on my activities.

First, I would like to announce several appointments which have been made recently. In cooperation with Jack Anderson, our treasurer, I appointed Hal Ruby, popular graduate student, to the Board of Control to replace Bob Tyson, who enlisted in the Army during the summer. Don Therence and Rex Butler have both accepted appointments to the Board of Publications, and Dan Simpson will serve you as a member of the College Scholarship Committee.

The semester, in my opinion, is off to a great start, what with several successful social and athletic events already concluded. The spirit you have displayed is magnifiicent. Of course, the spirit can get better, but I feel we have hit an all time high. I think that our motto this year should be Cooperation and understanding, for by cooperating with and understanding the problems of those who are attempting to build State, we will be able to say that 1952-1953 was truly a year of transition and progress.

We have had a great gain and a great loss in the past two weeks. The gain is in the person of Jack Healy, who recently accepted the position of Administrator of Student Affairs. Jack is an untiring worker and great friend of the students.

The loss comes with the resignation of Ron LeRoy, our popular and efficient rally commissioner. Ron, who has really put in a lot of time and effort on the activities program, was going down hill in his studies, and like the wise man he is, resigned rather than see his grades or the activities suffer too much.

I will end this first column with a word of thanks. Thank you for cooperating with us about the behavior at the games and dances. We must remember that a group is always judged by the conduct of the worst behaved member of that group, and so while most of you conduct yourselves as ladies and gentlemen, the few that, mentally, never graduate from junior high make the unfavorable impression on the public. You are to be complimented on your demeanor during, before, and after the Whittier game. Thank you.

Alumni Plans For Homecoming

The first fall semester meeting of the alumni board on September 23, started the ball rolling for the Homecoming dinner on November 1.

More than a dozen officers, board members, interested, and a'umni were on hand to plan details for Homecoming, and to mail out initial publicity to 1952 graduates.

The next meeting on Thursday, October 9, will be the scene of a mass mailing, when nearly 300 letters will be sent publicizing the Homecoming drive and other Homecoming events. Interested students who would like to assist will be greeted by Mrs. Olga Perkins—CH 105.

Letters To The Editor

THE BOILER ROOM

Dear Editor:

With the start of a new semester at State, books, along with the many other necessities, had to be secured.

After much elbowing and being elbowed, I finally managed to get to the Book Store counter and purchased the texts I needed. Even if I had thought of it at the time, due to the crowds milling about, it would have been impossible to check each of the books that I had bought.

Once I had settled myself at home, I started glancing through the books soon to discover that once again as in other semesters, I had been sold second hand books for new.

At school a few days later, I learned that this "experience" was not unique to me but rather had also happened to a number of my friends and acquaintances.

Perhaps there has been a legitimate error made here, and in that case, Book Store you are justified. But, if it was something intentional and done with the thought that we are "a bunch of suckers," take heed!

I have written this letter to you, with the understanding that the Gater is an acting representative arm of the student body and will inform them of this situation.

GERALD KOGAN

Dear Editor:

I feel that we, the students of San Francisco State College, do want stunt cards for our games. I feel that we want them for three reasons.

First: because it will improve the enthusiasm and spirit of SF State.

Second: it will help unite the student body as a team which will work more closely and accurately together instead of having just a few interested students participate in these activities and the rest of the students standing on the side lines.

Third: it will improve the college's financial status and will create more outside interest in collegiate activities and those associated with them. As more people attend the games more money will be taken in, and since San Francisco State is a small college this is very important because football is an expensive sport for any college. Outside attendance will bring in more revenue, build up our spirit, and put San Francisco State more in the public eye. Stunt cards which do create considerable outside interest will help to bring this about.

Gator Footballers Edge Whittier 38 To 26

O'Shea. Storm Sparkplug State Attack; Accute 'Fumbilitis' Strikes Again

By HAL GRANT

Led by the spectacular running of halfback John O'Shea, State's undefeated gridiron machine squeezed by a hustling, but impotent Whittier College eleven 38-26 last Friday night at Cox Stadium before a fogbound crowd of 2500.

The outcome of the scorefest was in doubt until the last two minutes of the game when the Gators pushed across two quick TDs—the first one which climaxed a 10 play 63 yard march and the second, "a gift" via the medium of Al Endriss' interception of Poet halfback Ray Dezember's desperation heave. Endriss returned the ball to the Whittier 13. On the next play O'Shea cut over left tackle and picked up the necessary 13 yards for the score.

"HOUSE A FIRE"

The Gators started out like a "house a fire" in the first period, scoring swice in the first 19 plays of the game.

Dick "Butch' Storm was responsible for the first TD when he tallied on a 7 yard end run.

Al Endriss claims credit for the second score when he caught a 40 yard Duncan pass on the Whittier 20 and romped over for the score.

Late in the first quarter the Poets recovered a Bremond fumble on the State 11. Two plays later Ray Dezember, captain and student body president, tossed to left end Jack Fox for six points. Bob Dunham booted the point after touchdown to make the score State 12, Whittier 7.

WHITTIER BARGES AHEAD

In the second quarter Whittier smashed ahead on a TD engineered by southpaw flinger Bob Burroughs. Dunham again kicked the extra point.

With one minute remaining in the half Dick Boyd and George Wehner blocked a Dezember punt. Wehner recovered the ball behind the goal for six more markers. Harley Felure kicked the PAT to make the score halftime 19 to 14.

In the third quarter the Gators drove for 49 yards in nine plays for another TD.

The Poets immediately retaliated with a 16 play 61 yard touchdown march. Dunham booted the extra point to make the score, State 26, Whittier 20.

TIED U P

Thirty seconds before the end of the third quarter Whittier scored again. Burroughs faded back to the State 30 to pass. He couldn't find a receiver so he reversed his field sidestepping five potential Gator tacklers in making his way to pay dirt. Whittier failed on the PAT try.

FUMBILITIS AGAIN

The Gators were unable to put their game together for any extended periods of time last Friday, and had the breaks gone the other way the victory could have been the Poets.

It seems the locals have not mastered Slip Madigans famous "fumble to a touchdown play"—their nine bobbles seemed to cause them nothing but trouble.

OCCIDENTAL NEXT

This Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. the locals clash with the Occidental Tigers on the Cox Stadium field. The Tigers bring with them a 1-1 win loss record. They hold a 22-6 decision over Cal Aggies and were decisioned themselves 14-12 last Friday by the Santa Barbara State Gauchos.

Gator Booters Bop Broncos In Intercollegiate Inaugural

Attendance records fell by the wayside as the San Francisco Gator soccer team downed a stubborn Santa Clara Bronco squad 3 to 0. Seasonal records may yet be broken by the crowds that continue to throng to the contests.

Attendance thus far has reached the astounding total of 31 and ½ (dogs have been ruled ineligible for more than ½ credit in the attendance records.)

The Santa Clárans battled grimly throughout the contest, again and again turning back scoring thrusts by the Gators until late in the second quarter when Tommy Hanson of the Staters booted a penalty kick into the net to break the ice, and put State ahead 1 to 0.

In the third quarter San Francisco broke into the scoring column again. Tommy Hanson had a hand, or rather a foot, in the scoring once more as he took a pass from Frank Verducci and passed beautifully to Charlie Andrews who slammed home the second Gator goal.

A few seconds later Andrews scored again to end the scoring for the rest of the game. Neither team tallied for the rest of the contest, and the game's end found San Francisco on the long end of a 3 to 0 score.

Preceding the game there was some doubt that there would be any spectators in attendance at all. The gates were padlocked and some of the less ardent fans balked at climbing over the barbed-wire topped fence in order to view the contest. Finally, those who were not easily discouraged, found their way onto the field by circling around through Cox Stadium and coming in the back way.

JV Gridders Routed By Vikings 25-7

The Junior Varsity footballers went down fighting last Saturday night to a rugged East Contra Costa J.C. team by a 25-7 count.

The Gator defense looked bad in the first half. The Vikings took advantage of this situation and scored three touchdowns.

The story of the game was told by the Vikings right halfback Erv Joyner who scored two TDs in the first quarter.

However, the Junior Gators came roaring back in the second half, after a very inspiring half time speech by Capt. Phelps, and scored their only touchdown as Bob Springer went over from eight yards out.

Outstanding players were: Bob Springer, Jim Davis, Ron Cook, Alan Swift, George Poquete, and Bill Dorffi.

Looking Around

By ROBERT E. PREBLE

Ever look around this campus of ours? Ever stand gazing from, say, the Rec Center terrace or the concourse in front of the New Gym? What were the first things you saw?

Well, first off probably, buildings. New, old, unfinished, outdated, lots of buildings.

Okay, what else?

People. What kind? Students, teachers, males, females, young people, not-so-young people—all kinds of people.

Buildings and people. A wonderful compound. You can never tell what will hoppen when you mix them. In our case we got a pretty fair-sized college, and, we think, a pretty good one.

But is a college just buildings and people? Of course not. A college—like any other society—is much more; and the criteria by which we judge it is: what do these people do with these buildings?

What do we do with ours? We learn. Learn what?

What indeed? Stale facts and figures from books? Ivory tower ideas and abstract concepts? Sure, because these things or Knowledge. But knowledge isn't necessarily education. Education, it seems to me, includes learning the practical application of this knowlelge to reality.

That's were so many of us fall down. We forget that we came to college to learn how we might take a better, more purposeful part of that greater society which we spell with a capital "S."

Why do we fail?

Because we forget that education doesn't end with the classroom. Its real test is what happens outside the classroom. And if we are preparing ourselves for a place in that larger community, doesn't it stand to reason that—to some extent at least—our contribution to Society will be indicated by the size of our contribution to this preparatory college community?

So, what are you supposed to do about it? Well, that's up to you and next time around let's talk about that, shall we? But until then why not look around and see if there isn't someplace where you can make your contribution to our college.

A 'package deal' is offered by the Juniors at the University of San Francisco. All Junior activities are planned for one week. The events include a ticket to their play, a bid to their Junior Prom and a banquet.

Hot Item: Blonde Bounces Back

"What buxom blond pushed what mad halfback off the balcony onto the cement 15 feet below?" Either it's love or she wanted to see how high he would bounce.

Recognize the fact, boy, with a few more hot items like the above your Gater will have a Feature Columnist with 'zing.'

Now, it is not so easy going around alert-like all day snapping up bits of news for such a worthy column. I just happened to get that first tidbit from a group that was arguing about how many times the guy bounced when he hit the deck.

I thought of a fine way to make this column really good. My idea is to buy an Examiner and take Herb Caen's column and use it in its entirety, inserting names of Big People On Campus. For instance, Caen may have an item that reads, "George Mardikian, famous restauranteur, was seen at the Fairmont Hotel Cirque room entertaining the owners and coaches of the Forty-$-ers . . . could they be wanting him to join their ranks . . . kash in hand?"

We would lift this cleverly worded piece to read something like this . . . . "Willis Wood, famous State Recreationist, was seen at the Forty-2 Vergue Room being entertained by members of the Bib 'N Tuckers' . . . could they be wanting him to join their outfit . . . ukelele in hand?"

This week, however, I will have to fill this column with little gems that happen to come to mind. I was totally unprepared to fill this gap on such short notice.

I have one litle priceless thing that has just been lying around for the last few years waiting for such an occasion. In the past I have been connected with the Gater Sports department. There was no call for this story in athletics. This is my opportunity to unload this . . .

In northern California there is a town named Yreka. Also a Eureka. But we don't care about Eureka. Just Yreka. Well, in Yreka there is a bakery shop. On the window of the bakery shop they have printed "Yreka Bakery." Yreka Bakery backwards spells Y-R-E-K-A-B-A-K-E-R-Y. Clever, eh?

Lessee now . . . I had a couple of other hot ones for this week. If I were real clever I might make something out of the fact that the student body president of the University of San Francisco is also named Riley. Bob, I think his first name is. Now, if his name were only Cec we might really do a bit on this item. I do know, though; they are not sisters.

Got to thinking the first couple of days of school about all the confusion "Staff" made for people in the Time Schedule. Some wanted to know if he was an easy grader. Situated could be worse. Some day we might get someone on faculty named Dr. Staff. You probably don't know it, and care less, but ther are seven people named Staff in the San Francisco telephone directory.

Illegal Parking Causes Trouble For All Concerned

Parking at the Old Campus has caused new problem for all Staters possessing cars. Rather than walking a few blocks, they ignore the green and red zones along the 'no parking' signs.

The green zone permits parents to park long enough to bring their youngsters into the Child Care Center. It is necessary for this zone to be kept clear for the fire department, emergency traffic and truck deliveries to the Center. Some merchants have threatened to refuse delivery service if they have to carry their produce up the ramp, which has been blocked with cars.

So under no circumstances park at the Laguna street entrances.
